

EUROPE PROTESTS AGAINST MEASURE

TARIFF BILL EXPECTED TO START COMMERCIAL WAR

May Force Reciprocity—The Treasury Department Anticipates Retaliatory Measures and Will Be Prepared to Meet Them Instructions Sent to Consular Agents.

Washington, July 27.—A commercial war between the United States and Europe is expected to result from the operations of the Dingley law.

While three nations of Europe separately filed protests against provisions of the law which they declared were inimical to their interests when the act was under consideration at the capital, all Europe, practically, is expected commercially to combine against this country as a result of the proposed enforcement of the bounty section of the statute.

Instructions have been sent by the state department to the consular representatives of the United States throughout the world and by the treasury department to its special agents in Europe, directing them to report the amount of bounties paid by the governments to which they are accredited on any products raised for export to the United States. Just as soon as this information is at hand the treasury department will take steps to assess all such products at a duty equal to the rate imposed by the law in addition to the bounty paid by the foreign government.

The course of the treasury department in this matter will be guided by section 3 of the new tariff law. This section provides that whenever any country shall pay any bounty upon the exportation of any article and such article is dutiable under the provisions of the United States, upon the importation of such article into the United States there shall be levied, in addition to the duties otherwise imposed, an additional duty equal to the net amount of such bounty or grant.

There is some hope that the bounty provision of the law will make foreign governments desist of entering into reciprocity treaties with the United States, but it is not believed that conventions of this character will be negotiated to any great extent with any nations other than those of South America.

WEYLER MAY GO TO SPAIN.

Believed in Cuba That Gen. Blanco Will Succeed Him in the Island.

Key West, Fla., July 27.—It is considered certain that Gen. Weyler will leave for Spain the last of this month. It is said Gen. Blanco will take his place. Gen. Weyler wanted to have an interview with Maximiliano Gomez, but Gomez refused. Another expedition has left for Cuba with a large amount of ammunition, guns and other supplies. It is said the steamer Bermuda is conducting the venture.

There is great excitement in Havana, caused by the granting of freedom to several prisoners of the Comptroller. Many Spaniards are urging the arranging of a united protest against Gen. Lee. A number of important citizens in Havana have been arrested recently and sent to jail charged with aiding the rebellion. Another train has been blown up by dynamite, this time near Gibara. The insurgents attacked the train, capturing arms, ammunition, money and other supplies.

An engagement has occurred at Bolondron, in Matanzas province. The command of the insurgent leader Alvarez encountered the Spanish forces under Gen. Molina. The Spanish loss was twenty-one killed and thirty-nine wounded.

Pope in Usual Health.

London, July 27.—The Rome correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says that in spite of the intense heat the pope is in his usual state of health. Indeed, he is feeling much better than he felt last winter. He is again directing special attention to the question of international arbitration, which he considers a matter appertaining peculiarly to the papacy.

Tracewell to Be Comptroller.

Washington, July 27.—The president has decided to appoint Robert J. Tracewell of Indiana to the position of comptroller of the treasury. JAPAN NOT TO RECEDE.

Marquis Ito Rousing European Powers Against America's Plan.

Paris, July 27.—The Figaro publishes an article bearing on the relations between the United States and Japan. Its importance is heightened by the manifest indications it bears of being "inspired," for only those in the inner circles of Japanese affairs could possibly have given the editor of Figaro any idea of the object which has caused the Marquis Ito to come to Paris at this particular juncture.

The article is as follows: "The Marquis Ito has come to Europe to protest more energetically in the name of his government against what he calls a usurpation big with dangers, and he declares to his friends that Japan, which has had to struggle against greater difficulties at the time of the war with China, will go on to the end with United States. We must not, therefore, be surprised if one of these days we have to announce a rupture of the relations between these two countries in the case the annexation projects are maintained."

"This would not, probably, mean a declaration of war, but it would be the beginning of hostilities more or less open, the results of which would be harmful and which might have in store surprises of all kinds, for 30,000 Japanese, almost all veteran soldiers, are already living in the Hawaiian islands, and the natives of the country hardly number as many."

"The object of the Marquis Ito's journey is to point out to Europe the peril of this annexation to which the vigorous Japanese people—which is still under the spell of its victories—is opposed to the utmost."

WILL NOT RESIGN.

Secretary of State Says He Will See the Hawaiian Matter Through.

Amagansett, L. I., July 27.—Secretary Sherman was seen Monday and positively refused to enter into any conversation regarding the Hawaiian annexation question. "I shall lay all matters regarding Japan aside until my return to business in a few days," he said.

"Mr. Sherman, is it true that you are to resign and Whitelaw Reid is to get the appointment?"

"No, sir; the story is without foundation, and if my health holds out I shall see the annexation question to a settlement."

Boston's Great Mystery.

Boston, July 27.—It seems as if every hour brought forth new developments concerning the death of Alice Barrett of Waltham last Saturday afternoon. She was found dead in the office of Codman & Codman, in which she had been employed as a bookkeeper. The building had been struck and set on fire by lightning, and it was at first supposed the bolt had killed her, but afterward it was discovered that she had been shot through the heart. A revolver was found on the floor. It was ascertained Monday that the cash-book of the firm, which Miss Barrett had kept for two years, had been burned. The police, who have been hard at work on the case since it assumed such a serious phase, are almost satisfied that Miss Barrett burned the book before her death.

Garment-Workers' Strike.

New York, July 27.—Another strike among the garment-workers has broken out on the east side, and this time it extends to Brooklyn and Brownsville. The knee-pants workers, to the number of 2,300, quit work Monday. The strikers demand that their day's work be reduced from fourteen to ten hours and that the prices be increased at least 10 cents a dozen from the present rates of 20 to 21 cents a dozen. The strikers include operators and cutters.

RATE PUT IN FORCE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

DINGLEY TARIFF BILL WENT INTO EFFECT THEN.

Collectors Are Notified—Senator Allison Confident This Decision Would Be Upheld By the Courts—Gain of $200,000 Will Result to the Government.

Washington, July 27.—The secretary of the treasury holds that the new tariff act went into effect at the beginning of the day on which it received the approval of the President, and therefore became operative after midnight of Friday, July 23. Assistant Secretary Howell sent the following telegram to collectors of customs: "Department holds that the new tariff law covers and includes all customs business of July 24."

On Monday a formal circular of instructions, covering more fully the department's views on the subject, was printed and mailed to all customs collectors. The opinion of the attorney general has not been requested on the matter, the department holding that the question is not of sufficient importance to justify it in taking it to the courts for final determination, independent of what the views of the law officers of the government might be as to the merits of the case.

Senator Allison in the course of conversation on the subject said that in his opinion there was no reasonable doubt that the act covered all of the day on which it became a law. This also is the view of all the prominent officials of the treasury department, including the collectors of custom at New York and several of the leading ports of the country.

Sufficient data upon which to base a close estimate of the amount of duties involved has not been received, but it is stated roughly that it probably will be between $100,000 and $200,000.

WORKMEN IN REVOLT.

Serious Dissensions Threaten to Disrupt the Fraternal Order.

Chicago, July 27.—Dissensions in the ranks of the Ancient Order of United Workmen have been causing the supreme and grand officers of that fraternal organization a great deal of worry, and threatening the disruption of one of the strongest orders in America. In fact, disruption has already set in, and the grand lodge of Ontario, which sends to the supreme lodge nearly $197,000 total membership tax, stands in the position of being in open rebellion against the supreme lodge of the order.

Upon the outcome of the fight with the grand lodge of Ontario hangs the life of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, as in it is involved the authority of the supreme lodge over the subordinate lodges and the right of either a grand lodge or a subordinate lodge to secede from the order at will and set up a jurisdiction of its own. The legal proceedings growing out of the row between the grand lodge of Ontario and the supreme lodge of the world will be international in their nature and of interest to other fraternal organizations, as it is the first time that a matter of this kind involving citizens of two independent governments has been carried into the courts for adjudication. It involves many complicated questions and the legal advisers of the supreme master workman are busily engaged in trying to find a way of getting the matter before the courts so as to make a decision binding upon both parties.

Great Britain Shy on Wheat.

London, July 27.—The Agricultural Gazette recently sent out a circular asking for information on the subject of crop prospects. EXPLORERS LEAVE FOR FROZEN NORTH

ADVENTUROUS PARTY START FROM PORT TOWNSEND

In Search of Alaskan Gold—Representatives of All Professions Are in the Expedition—Movement to Build Railways to the Gold Country—Flocking to the Klondike.

Port Townsend, Wash., July 27.—The steamer Mexico has left here with 400 passengers, all except fifty being bound for the gold fields. All went well provisioned and equipped. Many have supplies for a three-year stay. The party was made up of men representing all callings and professions, including many time-scarred veterans who joined the similar rush to the gold fields in California nearly half a century ago.

TO BUILD RAILWAYS.

Modern Means of Conveyance to Be Introduced in Alaska.

San Francisco, July 27.—N. E. Picotte of the Yukon country, who has been in this city several days, gives an interesting account of the efforts of pioneers of that locality to secure more modern means of conveyance in to the land of the golden fleece.

"While at Circle City and Forty-Mile last year," says Picotte, "we seriously considered the possibility of securing aid from the Canadian government to build a railway into this district. We secured as reliable data as we could and then forwarded them to Ottawa. Finally an appropriation of $5,000 was passed by the parliament and surveyors ordered to take the field this year."

"There are two practicable routes by which this country might be reached by a railway. One of these is from a point on the Canadian Pacific; the other is from Dyea. As far as we were able to ascertain neither presents many difficulties."

"The moneyed men of that section are willing to assist any enterprise of this character which will tend to develop the country. The attention of the world has been called to our country and the idea that naught but fairy tales have been written about its wealth is being quickly dissipated."

Will Not Enforce Alien Law.

Ottawa, Ont., July 27.—The cabinet has decided not to attempt to enforce the alien law in the Klondike district. Eighty additional mounted police will be sent on, however, to maintain law and order, and the United States authorities at Washington will be asked to give the right of way through disputed territory. Two customs officers will be sent to Lake Tegish, on the British frontier, to collect customs duties.

For a Military Post in Alaska.

Washington, July 27.—The secretary of war is considering a proposition that has been made to him to establish a military post in Alaska. At present the government has no troops in that vast territory, and in view of the heavy immigration now going on and the possible danger to life and property from lawless characters, he has been urged to create an Alaskan military post.

Miners Flocking to Dyea.

Seattle, Wash., July 27.—The steamer City of Topeka arrived here from Alaska at 2 a. m. Monday. The Topeka brought no Klondike passengers nor glittering gold, but reports that the miners are flocking toward Dyea by the score from Juneau and Sitka, and that both places threaten to be depopulated.

Glucose Companies Unite.

New York, July 27.—The long-anticipated combination of the half-dozen glucose companies in the United States is understood to have been consummated. The combination was effected through the foundation of one large company, which will be chartered under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $40,000,000. The underwriters' subscription for about $14,000,000 of the capital stock was oversubscribed by less than twenty banking firms, and the stock (when issued) is quoted at a premium of about 25 per cent.

Spain's King in Danger.

San Sebastian, Spain, July 27.—Queen Regent Christina and King Alfonso had a narrow escape from a serious accident Monday. While they were walking in the woods a heavy load of shot, discharged by a youth, who was out bird shooting and who had not noticed their presence, passed close to their heads.

Post May Be Renominated.

Lincoln, Neb., July 27.—Thursday, Aug. 26, at Lincoln, is the date and place selected by the Republican state central committee for the state convention. The sentiment of the common and party leaders seemed favorable to the re-nomination of Chief Justice Post of the Supreme court.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Results of Yesterday's Games Played in the Various Leagues.

With an open day only two days ahead yesterday was judged too damp for good ball-playing, and Colts and Reds took a holiday. The layoff permitted Louisville, by defeating Brooklyn, to come to even terms with Chicago, but the same game made the Bridgegrasses less formidable rivals. Philadelphia and Pittsburg, just ahead, are cutting each others throats also and giving the Colts a chance to catch up. The Browns, with Donahue in the box, gave Boston a painful surprise, and New York rallied in the ninth of a tumultuous game and beat out Tebeau's band. Scores:

Gov. Mount to the Rescue.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 27.—The commissioner appointed by the governor to investigate the condition of the Indiana miners submitted their report Monday, showing a great deal of destitution throughout the mining districts and demonstrating the necessity of public help. The governor acted promptly upon the report by calling a meeting of the state officers with the presidents of the Commercial club and board of trade at his office. At this meeting the state officers started a relief fund with liberal subscriptions headed by the governor, and a public appeal was made for contributions, which will be distributed by a relief committee organized at the meeting.

Constantinople, July 27.—At the sitting of the peace conference Monday the ambassadors presented the peace preliminaries drafted by the powers, which provide for European arbitration of any differences that may arise between the Greek and Turkish plenipotentiaries in arranging a definite treaty. It is stated that the powers will insist upon the acceptance by the porte of this provision, and its reception, therefore, by the sultan will be highly significant.

He can give no satisfactory account of his whereabouts from 3:30 o'clock until 6 o'clock, between which hours it is known the murder was committed.

No Agreement Affecting Hawaii.

London, July 27.—In the house of commons Monday the under-secretary for foreign affairs, replying to Mr. James Francis Hogan, anti-Parnellite member for Mid-Tipperary, who asked if the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was considered of binding force by Great Britain and the United States as bearing upon the annexation of the Sandwich islands by the latter, said the treaty contained no agreement recognized by either power as affecting Hawaii.

Call Miners' Demands Absurd.

Ottumwa, Iowa, July 27.—A strike of the union miners in this district, several thousand in number, is indicated. Two hundred men are now out at Forbush, having struck for $1 per ton. The operators are of the opinion that the demands made by the men are not in good faith, but merely to get an excuse for a sympathetic strike.

START MORE SUITS AT JUNEAU, WIS.

ANOTHER ECHO OF RAMBUSCH FORGERIES.

Mrs. Mulberger, a Widow, Sues Louis J. Markel to Recover $12,000 Paid By Him to an Estate on a Mortgage That Now Turns Out to Be a Forgery.

Juneau, Wis., July 27.—[Special]—Another case at law is the result of the forgeries of the late W. T. Rambusch. It was started in the circuit court today by the widow of the late Henry Mulberger, who has sued Louis J. Markel to recover $12,000 which the latter turned over to the Talbarger estate on a mortgage. It is now learned that the mortgage was also forged by Rambusch.

HINSHAW WRITES A LETTER.

Says That He Will Not Accept Pardon Without Full Exoneration.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 27.—The attorneys who are endeavoring to get together evidence which will show conclusively that the Rev. William E. Hinshaw is not guilty of the murder of his wife, have been informed that he will not accept a pardon until he is proved innocent in the eyes of the world. He has made the following statement to his attorneys:

"May God strike me dead, my kin and my friends, if I ever leave this prison without the stain of crime wiped from my brow. As God is my judge, I will never attempt to escape until the world says: 'William Hinshaw, you are not guilty of murdering your wife. A great wrong has been done you.' I never could face the world with the slightest stain against my name, which was once respected, but now is spurned. I am not dispirited, nor do I doubt that some day, even after I am dead, the truth about this crime will be known. If it was not for my mother, who is 72 years old, and father, who is 73, and both dying from sorrow over my fate, I could live among these convicts always, assisting the sick and cheering the disheartened."

J. O. Parker, the attorney who has charge of the effort to prove the minister's innocence, declares he will soon be able to substantiate the story of Convict Baney in every detail. Gov. Mount says he will not consider an application for a pardon until it can be shown conclusively that the minister is innocent.

Hanna on Mine Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 27.—Senator Mark A. Hanna was in Pittsburg for a short time Monday. He was returning to his home in Cleveland from Washington. Asked about the miners' strike, he said: "It is a bad thing for the country and should be settled. I am decidedly in favor of a uniform rate being paid by the operators, and in the efforts to settle the strike uniformity should be the consideration sought for. However, I am in favor of any plan which will tend to better the conditions of the miners of the country. Their circumstances are such that they are certainly in need of better wages."

New York Maccabees Beaten.

Port Huron, Mich., July 27.—The New York state delegates to the supreme tent Knights of the Maccabees were beaten on a proposition which they made to abolish district camps and to permit each of the local tents to select its own delegates in the state camps instead of their being chosen by district camps. No one voted for the amendment excepting the New York men. The supreme hive Ladies of the Maccabees rerated their assessment standards. After January next eight-year-old members will pay seven assessments annually instead of six and no per capita tax.

Big Hallstorm in Nebraska.

Kearney, Neb., July 27.—The worst hailstorm that has visited this section for many years struck here Monday afternoon. It started near Miller, about thirty miles northwest of Kearney, passed through Amherst and destroyed everything before it. The storm was from a quarter to a half a mile wide, and the business portion of Kearney was nearly in the center of it. All the window-panes in the city were broken. The hail was followed by a terrific rain and electric storm, lightning striking in many places and rendering several persons unconscious.

Check for the Kaiser.

London, July 27.—The English newspapers devote a good deal of space to the situation in Germany, and record, with thinly disguised satisfaction, the defeat of the emperor in the Prussian diet over the law of associations bill. The St. James Gazette says: "The Germans will stand a good deal of dragging, but there are limits. They won't be treated like Russians and Turks."

Japan May Purchase Plans.

New York, July 26.—Two officers of the Japanese navy went down to the Crescent shipyards at Elizabethport, N. J., yesterday morning and inspected the new Holland torpedo boat. The policy of the Holland people has been to keep the construction of the boat a profound secret, therefore it is thought some sort of an offer for it has been made by the Japanese government.

To Take Care of Water.

The report of the deputy city engineer in regard to the surface water on Washington avenue and cherry street, was referred to the highway committee, and further time granted. It was as follows:

TO THE MAYOR AND COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF JANESVILLE: Report on means of disposing of surface water at intersection of Cherry street and Washington avenue: Having examined the district I find that by a proper deepening of the gutters adjacent to the intersection of Cherry street and Western avenue and a rearrangement of the tiling at the intersection of Cherry street and Washington avenue, the surface water will flow off onto Western avenue, thence west in a connection with the river, such opening of the gutters to be about one and one-half feet at a maximum.

Protest From Tax Payers.

The following communication was read by the clerk: To The Common Council of the City of Janesville—We, the undersigned residents and taxpayers of the city of Janesville, believe that the action of the council in awarding the contract for lighting the city to the highest bidder, was unfair and unbusinesslike, and that such action established a bad precedent and will tend to prevent competition in the future.

That the bids for lighting the city were made in good faith, and in response to the city's published notice, and we believe that the awarding of a contract to the highest bidder without any good or valid reason, was unfair to the taxpayers, as well as to the bidders.

Who Can You Believe ? ? ? ? ?
Were you to read the catalogue of every piano manufacturer in the United States you would find that about all claim to make the finest piano, the cheapest often making the greatest claims and having the most gilt upon the covers of their catalogues. You ask who can we believe. False prophets have made confusion in other days than these, so beware.
A personal examination of the interior of the many pianos will convince you that the REED & SONS PIANO is the finest finished piano in the world. You will admit this as you look into the matter more closely.

1862—The American steamer Golden Gate, plying between San Francisco and Panama, was burned at sea; 180 lives lost; $1,400,000 in gold sunk.

1870—Mme. Marie Ratazzi, noted Italian actress, died at Florence.

1892—Intense heat through the United States; many fatal sunstrokes.

A CHEERING PROSPECT.

Congressmen have turned toward home with cheerful faces. The extra revenue from the Dingley law will be less in the early months than should be assured later. Such large amounts have reached the customs and revenue departments in anticipation of the passage of the bill, however, as to entirely relieve the treasury of any fear of strain. The cotton, wheat, corn and provisions, now assured or nearly so, should fully offset any possible demand for gold for European account. On the other hand there is encouragement for the agricultural interests of the country at large in the new tariff schedules. Several of the newly protected industries are more or less directly agricultural. It is not a small matter to those dependent on the cultivation of the soil that the cattle and sheep raisers, the fruit growers, the sugar producers and the flax cultivators should have the same kind of encouragement as have been given so generously to the mining and manufacturing industries. The direct tendency of this fostering recognition will be to diversify agricultural production and thereby diminish the overproduction of cereals, from which the farmers have so acutely suffered for many years past.

There can hardly be any doubt as to the effect of the change in tariff duties. The importing interests recognize the fact that the new law cannot be evaded by under valuations and fictitious invoices as was the Wilson law. The law was framed skillfully in the interest of American industries. Manufacturers appreciate this fact and are therefore more confident of their safety against foreign competition; and having this confidence they may be expected to undertake the resumption of production upon a scale which they would have hesitated to undertake under the lower duties now repealed. On this account, it seems reasonable to expect that there will be, from this time forward, a much more vigorous movement in our industries than has been witnessed for the last four years; which is the one thing up to this point wanting to a general recovery of confidence and a return to a normal activity of business.

NINE DOGS ARE POISONED.

Second Ward People Are Up in Arms in Consequence.

Nine Second ward dogs have been poisoned within the last few days, and the residents of that section are up in arms. Seven of the canines died yesterday and today, while one died several days ago, and the life of one was saved. The owners of the dogs that died were John C. Stanton, Mrs. Thos. Conroy, C. E. Tauberg, William McLaughlin, George Tyler, Mrs. Whitaker, and Mrs. Zeininger. Millard Ide's hunting dog got a dose, but Dr. E. D. Roberts succeeded in saving its life after hard work. The Zeininger dog succumbed some days ago. Mr. McLaughlin lost two valuable canines yesterday, and the others died yesterday and today. It is quite evident that someone in that vicinity is a little careless with poison, and if the guilty person is discovered, things will be quite interesting for him.

DEATH'S CALL COMES TO J. R. DOOLITTLE

FORMER UNITED STATES SENATOR IS NO MORE.

The End Came This Morning at the Home of His Daughter, at Edgewater, Near Providence, Rhode Island—Was 82 Years of Age—Sketch of His Life.

Racine, July 27.—[Special].—Ex-United States Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, died this forenoon at the home of his daughter, at Edgewater, near Providence, R. I., of Bright's disease, aged eighty-two years.

James R. Doolittle was born on a farm in the town of Hampton, in the neighborhood of Lake Champlain and not far from the Vermont line, on the 3d of January, 1815. Judge Doolittle was the sixth in line of descent from Abraham Doolittle, who was sheriff of New Haven, Conn., in 1648. When four years of age his father moved to western New York. He was graduated at Geneva, now Hobart college, in 1834. He adopted the law as a profession, and, having been admitted to the bar in 1837, opened an office at Warsaw, New York, in 1841. The only public office the judge held in New York was that of district attorney of Wyoming county. He early became interested in politics. In 1851 he came to Racine and found himself in a Whig district. Yielding to the pressure of many friends he ran as the democratic candidate for circuit judge and was elected. He resigned in 1856 and devoted his time to the law. He was strongly opposed to slavery. In 1844 he supported Polk over Clay for president, but in 1847 he introduced into the democratic convention the famous "cornerstone" resolution upon which the free soil party was formed in New York, and in 1848 he followed the fortunes of Martin Van Buren, the free soil candidate.

Refused To Resign.

He supported Franklin Pierce in 1852. The repeal of the Missouri compromise which followed Pierce's election, and the position assumed by Stephen A. Douglas toward the admission of Kansas and Nebraska operated to drive anti-slavery democrats out of the party. Thus Judge Doolittle became one of the founders of the republican party. He was elected to the United States Senate as a Republican from Wisconsin, January 23, 1857. Judge Doolittle was a great friend of Abraham Lincoln and he was in sympathy with Lincoln's administration. In 1863 he was again re-elected to the United States Senate from Wisconsin.

In 1865 a radical change in the republican party caused Mr. Doolittle to leave it. May 28, 1866, the legislature of Wisconsin adopted a resolution asking him to resign his seat in the senate. He delivered a scathing speech denouncing those who had passed the resolution and refused to resign. In 1871 he was the democratic candidate for governor and was defeated. Since that time he has been a democrat. In 1886 he ran for congress in the first district and was defeated.

Retired With Honor.

While many talented and bright men proved unable to resist the great and dazzling temptation to personal aggrandizement, incident to the turmoil and disorder of those times, and were made the subject of investigations. Senator Doolittle, actuated by purest motives of patriotism and high sense of honor, retired from public office without fortune, it is true, but with clean hands and an unblemished character. He was an acknowledged leader in the senate, and a staunch friend of the lamented Lincoln, and made a reputation national in its scope, and such as will live in history and grow brighter in the light of a cooler and clearer judgment sure to follow in the lapse of time.

Of late Judge Doolittle practiced law in Chicago and resided most of the time with his daughter, Mrs. Prindell of Racine. A year ago he was stricken with la grippe and never fully recovered.

THE SHAKERS DO THEIR DUTY

"If a man discovers a valuable medicine," said Horace Greeley, "it is his duty to advertise it." Yes, and at once; for suffering demands the speediest relief possible. But let the man first be sure. Suffering had better wait than be deluded by false hopes. Medicine, like surgery, must often seem cruel in order to be really kind. On this principle the Shakers, of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y., withheld their great indigestion and dyspepsia cure from the public for several years. With them right-doing is everything—money comparatively nothing. Hence the popularity and success of whatever they offer for sale. Having satisfied themselves of the merit of their medicine by employing it in the worst cases of digestive disorders in their own vicinity for years, they did their duty—they advertised it, under the name of the Shaker Digestive Cordial. In all cases where there is distress after eating, pain in the stomach, chest and back; aversion to food with the resulting symptoms, such as head ache, furred tongue, eructation of gas, with weakness and loss of flesh, etc., the Cordial has a most happy effect. Being itself a digested food with power to digest other foods, it relieves the weak and possibly inflamed stomach of the labor it is in no condition to perform, gives new strength to the body and presently restores to the digestive organs their normal vigor. Taken immediately after eating this remedy insures the digestion of the meal and prevents the fermentation of the food which is the source of most of the afflicted symptoms which accompany dyspepsia. It is also as agreeable to the taste as it is potent as a medicine. To show their own confidence in it, and to hasten its universal adoption, the Shakers authorize druggists to sell trial bottles at the nominal price of ten cents.

CYCLERS FOUND BAD ROADS

Party Had to Hire a Wagon to Take Them Part Way.

When H. J. Cunningham, started with his Sunday School class, for Clear Lake yesterday on their bicycles, they did not figure on the bad condition of the roads. When out three miles they found the roads so muddy that it was impossible to push their wheels. On this point two of the wheels gave out and then it was deemed best to hire a farmer to take them to Milton Junction. From the Junction they pushed on to Clear Lake, arriving there at 11 o'clock, having left this city at 8:30 o'clock. A portion returned home on the cars. Those who made the trip were: Robert Kacff, H. J. Cunningham, R. C. Denison, Robert Jones, Sheldon Moseley, Roy Sanborn, Frank McNamara, Harlin Fitch, Ollie Bladen and Frank McNamara.

WILL PLEAD GUILTY THE POLICE THINK

"PADDY" BURNS SAYS THE
"JIG IS UP."

Will Probably Admit That He Robbed
the Store at Indian Ford, and Go to Waupun—Assault and Battery Cases in the Municipal Court

When Patrick Burns, alias Paddy Ryan, appears before the municipal court this month to answer to the charge of burglarizing George Lack-ner's store at Indian Ford, he will plead guilty, it is said, and will be sentenced to the state's prison at Waupun.

The prisoner has already stated "that the jig is up," and that he is now "prepared to take his medicine." His plea will be that he committed the deed while drunk. Burns, or Ryan, as the case may be, is thought to be an old offender, who has been "over the road before." The police hint that he has had his finger in several other doings in this vicinity. But a small portion of the stolen goods have been recovered by the police up to date.

Prowlers Are About.

Night prowlers paid a visit to the home of Mrs. Morse, on Cornelia street, early this morning. Between 12 and 1 o'clock Mrs. Morse was awakened by the flashing of a light through the window. She looked out, and saw a horse and buggy on the lawn, under the trees. In the buggy were two men. One wore a light colored suit and the other a dark suit, and they had driven the horse over the sidewalk into the yard. The buggy stood in the deep shadow and in the darkness but little could be seen of the men. Mrs. Morse called her son, Harry, who hastened out of the back door. As he went around the corner of the house, he called to the men, and they drove off. This is the second time men have been seen prowling about the residence. The last time the visitor was on foot, and ran up the street when he saw that he had been discovered. As no light was seen last night after the flash awakened Mrs.
Morse, it is thought that the men carried a dark lantern.

Cases in the Court.

Lewis Gower paid a fine of two dollars and costs or a total of $6.86 in the municipal court this morning for the amusement he derived on a Saturday night a week or two ago in punching the head of William Garry; and thus was the honor of the Garry family, of which Patrick Garry is the head, vindicated. The affair took place about 8:30 o'clock in front of Archibald Reid & Co's. store. Gower pleaded guilty, but in order that the extent of the offense might appear, witnesses were sworn. From the testimony it appeared that Gower was looking for trouble. In assessing the fine Judge Phelps remarked that Gower was looking for insult industriously in order that he might resent it, and that the assault appeared to be without provocation.

Two Men Are Fined.

It cost William E. Dulin and James J. Hennessy $7.40 each, $5 of which was fine and the balance in each case costs, for their high street entertainment Sunday afternoon. They were both in the municipal court this morning and pleaded guilty. The court asked concerning the particulars of the fight, for such it was, whether it was premeditated or not, etc. Dulin replied that it was mostly talk and that the "scrap" itself lasted only about half a minute.

A Foreclosure Judgment.

Judgment of foreclosure was today given in the circuit court in the case of A. Woodard vs. Giles Burr. The interested parties reside in Clinton.

BELOIT MAN'S LUCK IN KLONDIKE FIELD

JOHN W. CRIST TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCE.

Enters Into Partnership Twice and Makes a Small Fortune—Nearly Starved When a Steamboat Fortunately Brought Supplies—Fearful Hardships Endured.

Beloit is represented in the Klondike gold mine district, among those enduring the fearful exposures for the sake of gain being John W. Crist.

He went from Montana to Alaska in 1893 to work at his trade of a carpenter, and finally made his way to Circle
City, then to Dawson, where he receives $15 per day and board for his work and spends his spare time working in the gold mines. A letter was received by his sister, Mrs. E. C. Stone of Beloit yesterday, written June 17 at Fort Cudahy, in which he speaks of the new gold discoveries as follows:

"Last November I concluded to investigate the cause of the exciting reports of big gold finds up the river and went on a three days' journey to a new settlement called Dawson City,
the center of the Klondike interests.
Big strikes were reported there, but there was no ground to be had except it was bought or leased. Every foot in the gold district had been staked off and duly claimed. I formed a partnership with three friends and we paid $6,500 for a claim and they worked it. I worked on another claim on shares. From January 30 to May 17, we had taken out $49,000 of dust.
Half of this went to claim men, which gave us about $6,000 each for our four months' work.

Bought a Claim For $35,000.

"Later we four bought a claim for $35,000, paying five down, and we think we will have it paid for in a short time. It is now 'make or break' with me. I hope for good luck and will remain here another year. I am not working in the mines myself, but am engaged by the North American Transportation company looking after the building of some big warehouse at $15 per day and board, and will make my headquarters at Dawson city. Fifteen dollars a day seems big pay to you folks now, but it is nothing here.
Expenses are in keeping with the wages. For instance flour is $60 per sack and bacon is $1.25 per pound.
Provisions are scarce and a few days I was afraid I wouldn't be here to write you this. I was so near starved, but a steamboat came in and I am filled up now."

Hardships Are Fearful.

In previous letters Mr. Crist spoke of the fearful hardships men must endure there, and dares not recommend the country. He says it takes a year's time to get settled anywhere. It is winter for eight months with the mercury from 60 to 80 degrees below zero most of the time and for months there is little or no daylight. He says hundreds of men are coming in to try their luck in the gold fields, but a very inch of ground is already staked out, they will have hard times even if they endure the journey. Everything has to be transported by sleighs, and most all who try to reach the mines turn back discouraged.

MANY EXCURSIONISTS HERE

Seven Hundred Illinois People Were

Headed For Devil's Lake

For fifteen minutes this morning

Janesville had an increase in her population of some seven hundred people.

At 9:45 o'clock an excursion train of thirteen coaches pulled into the city on the Northwestern road. It came from Jefferson Park, near Chicago, and was bound for Devil's Lake. During the fifteen minutes stay here the saloons near the depots reaped a harvest while the lunch counters sold out all the stock. Hauled by two engines, the train left the city in charge of Conductor George Fremd of Harboo.

Twenty-five tickets were sold here.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Cora Benash.

Cora Benash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Benash, of the town of Center, died at the home of her parents yesterday morning, of congestion of the brain, aged seven years.

The little girl was overcome by the heat while playing a few days ago,

PETER RICKET'S HERO.

By KATE JORDAN.

"Rao will do nothing save what I direct," said Wayling. "Do not fear, Peter. Have not I given you my word? Now that we have well nigh forced our way into your house and I stand face to face with the Judas who betrayed me it is meet you should know my meaning. There is no time to lose."

Peter drew a chair forward and seated himself in the center of the room between the two men. His boyish face was pale and pinched from anxiety. There was an indomitable resolve in Wayling's bearing, an open eagerness for revenge in the Hindoo's, a servile terror in the attitude of the unfortunate Cantley, who sat huddled upon the couch, his wig awry, his lip dejectedly hanging.

"I was not always this man's enemy," commenced Wayling, leaning his head upon his hands. "Time was when we were inseparable. On the details of our long friendship I dare not linger. He was the son of a poor missionary, a good man, and when I left India eight years ago to inherit an estate in England I made him accompany me. Aye, I even shared my fortune with him, and he was to me as my own brother."

"For these two years past I have hated him as strongly as once I loved him. From place to place in England and France have I followed him. He eluded me always, though never dreaming I was on his track. By a happy chance I learned of his departure for the colonies, and I followed him hither. Not a clew had I to his whereabouts, but I judged he would prefer New York, and for a month past my days and nights have been spent at the playhouse, the coffee houses, on the streets, in the mail coaches, everywhere men congregate, looking always into the face of every passerby for the one I sought."

Wayling sprang to his feet and commenced to pace up and down the little room, his eyes closed. When he spoke again, the words came in spurts:

"A woman crossed my path when I was 25, three years ago—only three. She had the face of an angel. Oh, Peter, how truly I loved her! She was to me the flower of the earth. She became my wife. I was happy. I had never thought to be so happy. Every day I thanked God for the privilege of living. Every day I loved her better. I made her tell me over and over again that her heart was indeed my very own. A willful, pretty thing she was. Her name was Mary, but I called her 'Flite.' Like a sunbeam she would sometimes dance from me in waywardness, only to dance back again and hang about my neck, her eyes wet, her heart throbbing against mine. O God in heaven, when I suffer myself to think—But let it pass."

His eyes met Wayling's fastened upon him.

He controlled himself by a violent effort and continued almost calmly:

"We were traveling in France, Peter—Judas, yonder; Rao Singh, Mary and I, for I was not strong in those days, and English air was counted ill for me. No, I was not strong. In India I had been subject to faintness which had held me in an unconscious state for days—a sort of trance, in which I felt, knew everything, yet was held captive in such a way I could not move as much as an eyelid. I was sensitive about this trouble. No one save Rao Singh and this man knew of it. I did not tell my wife. Women are not fond of sickly men."

"But, ah, there came a time in which I suffered a thousand deaths—a short space as we reckon time, but to me an eternity among the tortures of hell itself. How shall I best describe it to you, how give you an inkling of the unimaginable agonies I suffered?"

CHAPTER III.

Wayling stood still, with tensely clasped hands, his under lip caught between his teeth, his eyes turned inward, like a man's walking in his sleep.

"I found myself coming from a land of clouds and nothingness to a faint consciousness of myself," he said rapidly. "My brain by degrees became clearer. I endeavored to open my eyes, but found it impossible. Then I knew that the trance which had held me at different times from my boyhood held me again, but I was not dismayed, only sorry the time had come when my wife must be told of my peculiar infirmity. The place was very still. I seem to hear, as I did then, the dropping of the sands in an hourglass somewhere near me, the bleating of a lamb for its mother, coming, as it seemed, through an open window. I became aware of the soft opening and closing of a door. Somebody entered and stood by my side. One finger was placed upon my forehead, and the person drew a string down my body to the extreme tips of my toes. Then there flashed over me a frightful idea. I was being measured for my coffin. The people around me supposed me actually dead," continued Wayling. "How had such a condition come to pass? Had I fallen into the trance while with strangers? Where was Rao? Where was Cantley? I knew not. I could remember nothing of time or place previous to the attack. Now my sufferings began in truth. I felt my hands were nearly folded upon my breast and my limbs straightened after the manner of a corpse. The door was opened again. I heard a low cry, and two warm arms were placed under my head. It was Mary. Oh, it was my wife! The glorious sense of relief which rushed over me I cannot find words to describe. If my wife were by my side, my friend and servant could not be far away. With all my strength I strove to speak to her—to open my eyes. It was as if every muscle were held down in a band of iron and my tongue were paralyzed. But the worst was yet to come. Mary laid her warm cheek against my brow and murmured strange, self-condemning words into my ear. I wanted to shriek out that it was not, could not be true, and then this man entered. He spoke of me as one dead, and from his conversation with my wife I knew that horrid thing she had whispered was so indeed—that he had stolen her love from me and there was a guilty understanding between them. How he laughed at Mary's fears, ridiculed her remorse! Nay, more, he even dared talk of their future happiness together, while knowing I could hear, that every word ate through my heart, that he was sending me to the most awful fate human being could suffer—the supreme of mental torture. At that moment I would gladly have damned my soul for power to look once into his craven face ere I laid him dead at my feet. Look well at him, Peter, this Judas who betrayed his friend."

"I pray you let me speak one word in my own defense," stammered Cantley. "Silence!" cried Wayling, turning on him like a madman, all the loathing he had repressed spreading over his face. "When you might speak, you did not, and you cannot now."

Cantley shrank from him, and his head fell upon his knees in an attitude of despair.

"No one else suspected. I was not actually dead," continued Wayling. "The preparations for my burial in the cemetery of that French village were hurried as much as possible. Where was Rao Singh meanwhile? Had his fealty been purchased? I could not think so. Nay, I felt sure some treachery kept him from my side. An interval followed of which I can recall nothing. From sheer terror my senses must have left me during the burial. Suddenly I came back to life and the power of motion. This I knew by slightly moving one of my fingers up and down. There was a quickening through all my nerves. The beating of my heart sounded like the strokes of a chisel. I remembered all, and at once the question came, Where am I? The awful uncertainty of that moment made my flesh prickly and cold. Where was I? I opened my eyes at length. Darkness enveloped me, a silence that could be felt. There are degrees of stillness, but the absolute silence of the grave has no parallel in life. After a convulsive effort I lifted my hand very slowly until it struck the lid of the coffin. Oh, that moment! I cannot find words to describe my sensations. Sweat burst from every pore. My agony was intolerable. Merciful God, to feel that, though living, I was as really dead as the bones rotting in the next grave! A nailed down coffin lid and six feet of clay separated me from the green earth. I could fancy the leaves fluttering in the sunlight, children playing perhaps within a few feet from where I lay."

"Oh, it was madness! I shrieked, and the sound was terrific in the narrow coffin, but I knew with an agonizing helplessness it did not pierce beyond it. Then I grew frantic, yelled madly, continuously, called on God, tore at my graveclothes, beat my hands against the sides of my coffin, and with a strength born of my need and despair tried to force the lid. It gave way little by little with a grating sound, and presently a handful of damp earth fell upon my face. Then I saw there was no escape, not any. I must die, smother, like a rat in a hole. The agony I suffered was infinite, untranslatable. The pressure on my chest—oh, I seem to feel it now, suffocating, dying by inches! At last I heard a faint sound. As well as I could I shrieked again and waited, with what suspense you can dimly imagine. The sound became more distinct—a voice. It seemed an eternity before the coffin lid was torn back, and I felt myself lifted, carried up, up—it seemed to me into the ether of a new world. When I recovered, Rao Singh was bending over me, the stars were above, life about me. The delight was too much. I swooned."

Peter had found himself creeping nearer and nearer the edge of his chair as Wayling's narrative proceeded. At the last words, as the speaker sank back gasping, he bounded impulsively to his side and caught his hand, tears rushing from his eyes.

Slang.

The use of slang has become so common as to cease to cause comment among a large class of people, both old and young. It is a habit to be condemned, and one which girls and boys should be induced to break. It is senseless, degrading, and one which leads to a much worse habit—the use of profanity and obscenity. We think it would be well to organize an antislang society. Boys readily learn a class of low, vulgar words and expressions which are never heard in respectable circles or around the fireside. Some seem to think these smart or remarkably funny, and sometimes a girl so far forgets her self respect and maidenly purity as to be guilty of the same thing. We cannot imagine a decent girl using words or expressions that she would not use before her mother and father.

Many of the slang phrases in common use are next to swearing, yet not quite so wicked, but they lead to worse language and fill the mind with evil thoughts. A distinguished author says, "I resolved when I was a child never to use a word which I could not pronounce before my mother." He grew up to be a pure minded father, noble and honored gentleman. A clean mouth and a pure heart will make men and women whose pure lives will shine amid the surrounding sin and darkness of life like stars in the twilight sky. Take any slang expression in common use, analyze it and see how utterly senseless. "Button up your mug," says one little boy to another. "You cheese it yourself," he responds. Who of the uninitiated could understand that sort of language? Slang words are of low origin, coming from the lowest depths of the race course, the prizefight ring, the saloon and from sources even lower.—Farmville (Va.) Journal.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

is the most dangerous of all human ailments because its approach is unobtrusive. Its symptoms are common to other diseases, viz., Severe Headache, Backache, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Blurred Vision, Dyspepsia, etc. Once let it get a firm hold on the system and it is difficult to dislodge. It is caused by inability of the kidneys to filter the Urea from the blood.

CURED

I have been troubled for several years with what some physicians pronounce lumbar, some Bright's disease, but none of the doctors were able to give me any relief. I saw your advertisement in the Daily Reporter of Fond du Lac and went to the Huber Brothers drug store, and procured a box of Hobbs' Spargus Kidney Pills. After using these pills according to directions, I am prepared to say, the trouble has entirely left me, and I honestly believe it to be a permanent cure. The pills are worth their weight in gold. TRYING ORDEALS FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Women May Avoid Painful Examinations.

To a modest, sensitive, high-strung young woman, especially an unmarried woman, there is no more trying or painful ordeal than the "examinations," which are now so common in hospitals and private practice.

An examination by speculum, or otherwise, is sometimes a positive necessity in certain stages of many diseases peculiar to women, so at least it is declared by the profession. This would not be the case if patients heeded their symptoms in time.

If a young girl's blood is watery, her skin pale and waxy looking, her lips colorless, bowels torpid, digestion poor, her ears and temples throb and she is subject to headache, begin at once to build up her system with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Do not allow her to undergo a physical examination.

Here is a letter from a young lady who requests that her name should not be used, but gives her initials and street number so that any inquiry addressed to her will be received. She says:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—It affords me great pleasure to be able to say a few words in regard to the merits of your Vegetable Compound. I was tempted to try it after seeing the effects of it upon my mother, and now I feel like a new person. I am a stenographer and was troubled with falling of the womb and female weakness in general. I continued to work until I was so weak I could no longer walk, and the last day I was forced to stop and rest."

"I was then so ill that I was compelled to stay in bed, and so nervous that I could not hold anything in my hands. The least noise or surprise would cause my heart to beat so loudly, and I would become so weak that I could hardly stand. I suffered for almost a year. It is different now. I can go about my work with pleasure, while before, work was a drudge."

"Trusting that my words of praise may help some other afflicted person, and be of benefit to womankind in general, I remain, Yours in gratitude, L. H., 444 S. East St., Indianapolis, Ind."

"IT MAKES ME HUNGRY"

just to look at your store; everything is so nice and clean." We are proud of such words as those from our customers, and try to deserve them. Not a shelf in our store but is emptied once a week and carefully wiped --the shelf and everything on it. We began doing this so we could keep things looking nice and clean, but we find the arrangement a great help in keeping them nice and clean and fresh and tempting. Those words do add to the money value of things good to eat, don't they? But you will not find our prices any higher for the extra care we take. We get our advantage in the increase of trade.
